THE TAX ADVANTAGES OF AN ISA

What can you save or invest in a Freedom ISA?

Freedom ISAs can be used to invest in shares or funds - any capital growth will be tax-free and there is no further tax to pay on any dividends you receive.

Transferring money from cash ISAs or stocks and shares ISAs to a Freedom ISA

If you have money saved from a previous tax year you can transfer some or all of the money from a cash ISA or a stocks and shares ISA to a Freedom ISA without this affecting your annual ISA investment allowance. If you have money saved in the current tax year:

- you may transfer money saved in the current tax year from a cash ISA, or another stocks and shares ISA, to a Freedom ISA but you must transfer the whole amount saved in that tax year in that cash or stocks and shares ISA up to the day of the transfer
- the money transferred is then treated as if it had been invested directly into a Freedom ISA in that tax year; you are then still able to save or invest the remainder of your £10,200 annual ISA investment limit in that tax year, including up to £5,100 in a cash ISA
- from 6 April 2010, the ISA limit increased to £10,200, up to £5,100 of which can be saved in cash for all eligible ISA investors

How much tax will you save?

Interest from savings:

- If you pay tax at the basic rate, outside an ISA you usually pay 20 per cent tax (2009-10) on your savings interest
- if you pay tax at the higher rate, outside an ISA you usually pay tax at 40 per cent on your savings interest
- if you pay the 'saving rate' of tax for savings, outside an ISA you pay tax at 10 per cent on your savings interest

Dividend income :

- if you're a basic rate taxpayer inside or outside an ISA you pay tax at 10 per cent on dividend income; this is taken as a 'tax credit' before you receive the dividend and is not refunded for ISA investments
- if you're a higher rate taxpayer you would normally pay tax on dividend income at 32.5 per cent; in an ISA you won't get back the 10 per cent dividend tax credit element of this, but you will save by not having to pay any additional tax

Capital Gains Tax (CGT) savings:

- If you make gains of more than £10,100 from the sale of shares in your Freedom Portfolio (and certain other assets) in the tax year 2010-11, you would normally have to pay CGT (at the prevailing rate of 18% on the gain over and above your personal allowance). However, you do not have to pay any CGT on gains from an ISA (but losses on ISA investments can't be used to reduce CGT on gains from investments outside the ISA), and you do not have to disclose the fact you have an ISA on your tax return.
